Statement

To Dear Customers:

First of all, we are appreciated all the supports and trust to Serv trayvou Interferrouillage (STI).

There are projects found that products applied are inconsistent with order information during after-sale service. And we received complaints from customer that there are few companies who sells fake and inferior STI products in market. Therefore, we suggest our customers to verify the order information or contact us for support in order to avoid safety risks, accidents and any other damage it may occurs in later operation.

What STI provides is professional customization safety codes and solutions according to each project information. We guarantee the reliability, traceability and safety of key code combination with corresponding project name. In case of product procured from improper project name or fake and inferior products, we could not guarantee the solution safety, rational key code management and related services. Therefore, STI shall under no liability in respect of any risks, accidents or any other loss or damage. It is hereby to claim that STI shall reserve all right to defeat the condition of infringement of STI trademark and products. Impeachment of any infringement of STI trademark and products are welcomed.
